1. Please assign the following roles first. You will need fixed roles for pre-production, production and post-production. However, you can change roles between the different production steps.

Pre-production:

name	description	function/position
	...will be responsible for the text.	script master
	...will draw illustrations for the video.	illustrator
	...will be responsible for the programme you'll use.	IT expert

Production & Post-production phase:

name	description	function/position
	...will speak parts of the text.	narrator one
	...will speak parts of the text.	narrator two
	...will manage the editing.	principal editor

2. Make an outline with the information you want to have in your video. Make sure to answer the following questions in your video. How you do it is up to your creativity.
  - Explain what fake news are, naming some Intereuropean examples.
  - Describe what consequences fake news can have and what dangers lie within them.
  - Name the 3-5 most important tips on how to detect fake news.

Use the given material as a basis for your video.

3. Write a story board (templates provided) where you list the different shots you want to make and
  - which text you want accompanying the shot.
  - which illustrations you need.
4. Which other things do you want to have in your video...? Check with teachers first if they are actually possible before planning ahead.
